Diving-concepts.at welcomes you on our homepage!

We are a team of exploration divers and diving medicine physicians that are doing scientific research in technical diving and scuba diving. In addition we are instructing divers of all levels from scuba beginner up to technical instructor trainers.

We are located in Innsbruck, Tirol/Austria where we work at the university clinic and at the Leopold-Franzens University of Innsbruck. Together with our team we run different projects in the region of middle Europe from Mediterranean Sea to our local Austrian mountain lakes.

The founders of diving-concepts.at are Andrea Köhler, PhD and Frank Hartig, MD. Both are advanced diving instructors in all levels except of childrens diving.

At present our main research topics are endothelial function in decompression stress and pulmonal shunts in technical diving.

Wish you a nice trip through our homepage, the pictures are in English 😊

See you

Andrea and Frank
